PROOFREADING FOR PUNCTUATION, SPELLING, AND WORD USAGE

This section consists of four-line cases. Each line in each case is a separate test item.

Read each case and determine whether each individual line in the case contains a punctuation error, a spelling error, a word usage error, or no error.

Capitalization, grammar, and hyphenation are not tested in this section.

Directions: Select the option that designates the type of error.

- A. Punctuation error: Commas, periods, question marks, quotes, dashes, apostrophes, semicolons, or colons that are used incorrectly, omitted, or misplaced.
- B. Spelling error: A word that is misspelled and forms no valid word.
Example: defendant (correct) vs. defendant (incorrect).
- C. Word usage error: A word that is spelled correctly but used incorrectly.
Example: principle/principal, affect/effect, flair/flare, rest/wrest, sometime/some time (limited to similar-sounding words).
- D. No error: The line contains no errors.

21 A During March of last year the police were
22 A patrolling the area in search of the suspect and
23 C that pursuit, by the way, lead them to a small
24 B house that contained drug paraphenalia.

25 A When she was asked, "Will you please assist us?"
26 D how did she reply? Did she say to you, "I am already 27 A doing all I can?" She told us that she would be
28 A spending the entire evening at her parents.

29 C I thought that she simply had no flare for the job;
30 C yet she was not one of the lessor players for us.
31 D There was no joie de vivre and no enthusiasm.
32 B The thing that was really missing was committment.

33 A She was prescribed Tylenol for pain, Naproxen,
34 D an anti-inflammatory; and Ambien so that she could 35 A get some sleep. Even with all of these drugs she
36 D remained very uncomfortable and miserable.

37 A She had all the toys: an iPhone, an iPad, and 38 A a Kindle Fire, that she needed for the job. However,
39 C her principle task, which was to maintain her
40 A boss' schedule, seemed to be beyond her ability.

41 D Was it clear to you that the land had been ceded to 42 B the plaintiff? Was that the outcome that you understood
43 D from the documents that you had? Why didn't you say to 44 D him, "Why did you give up so easily?"

45 C Did you visit the state capitol, where the 46 A headquarters of his company Logan International, was 47 A located? Is that where the confrontation took place,
